

AMLAN BORA

CHIEF REPRESENTATIVE FOR SOUTH ASIA | PORT OF ROTTERDAM AUTHORITY

Amlan Bora is the Chief Representative of the Port of Rotterdam for India and South Asia. Mr. Bora's primary task is to facilitate Port of Rotterdam establish stronger and meaningful partnerships and equitable supply chains for containerized cargo and bulk as well as new green energy molecules, such as ammonia and hydrogen. It also applies to the Port Authority's and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs' of the Dutch government's efforts to explore business synergies around critical raw materials between Europe and South Asia.

Prior to this assignment, Mr Bora in the capacity of Chief Representative cum Trade & Investment Commissioner led the trade offices network of the Ministry of Economic Affairs of the Government of The Netherlands in India on top of over 20 years' professional experience working for major multinational companies like Siemens, Philips and Diageo based out of their global HQs in Munich, Amsterdam, and London respectively.